PREFACE.

The Indianapolis City Directory and Business Mirror is now offered to the public. Constant care and pains have been taken to collect the names and material necessary in the compilation of such a work. The compiler regrets that a more general feeling does not prevail of the usefulness of a Directory. Two out of three business houses refusing to support it on the plea that it is of no use to them—they have no occasion to use it—they know where every person resides. It would be supposed that the yearly insertion of a person's residence, his occupation, his office or warehouse together with placing his name under a particular heading of business in the Classified Directory, would be deemed of sufficient importance for the support of a Directory, beyond any use it might be in ascertaining the location of others.

The following table will show the actual increase of names in this Directory over that of last year. Taking the aggregate number, (7035) multiplying by five—which is rather below the average, we will find the population of Indianapolis to be thirty-five thousand, one hundred and seventy-five.

It was the intention to have the work completed by the 15th of January. The delay was caused by the slow returns of Church information, and of other organizations, much of which has been unavoidably omitted, but will appear in a semi-annual supplement to the City Directory, issued in July of each year, giving the changes of old, and the names of new business firms, with those of others who may have made this city their home in the interim

The compiler cannot but feel grateful to the business men of Indianapolis for the very liberal patronage they have bestowed on the work, in the way of advertising, and he feels assured that the disposition of an extra edition of the book, in the country, especially devoted to the benefit of the advertisers, cannot fail to give satisfaction. For the numerous notices of the enterprise, given by the press of this city, the compiler would also tender his thanks.

In conclusion, the book is fearlessly submitted with whatever inaccuracies or omissions there are, to the tender mercies of a discriminating public, with the feeling, on the compiler's part, that he has done his duty, and looks to them for his reward.

JAMES SUTHERLAND.

MOORE'S

IMPROVED PATENT

The Cheapest, most Reliable. and most Durable Machine in use.

We are now offering this superior Machine, handsomely ornamented and neatly finished, at the low price of $35 for plain table, and $40 for half-case, which are not only the most useful articles of household furniture, but are highly ornamental even for the parlor.

This machine possesses many advantages peculiar to itself, and to be found in no other machine in the country. The recent improvements added place it beyond the pale of competition.

It now stands without a Rival, challenging the World to produce its Equal.

The "Universal Hemmer," and Tucking Gauge, accompany each Machine, without extra charge, which is the only Hemmer invented that will turn any hem, without previous folding, from the narrowest width to two and a half inches. It also makes one of the best gauges for tucking and stitching.

We solicit a thorough and critical examination of the superior merits of this Machine, which are

- 1st. It makes the Strongest, most Elastic and Durable Stitch of any Machine yet made.
- 2d. It has the Best and Most Reliable Feed ever constructed, and does not break needles.
- 3d. It sews from two common spools without re-winding, and sews perfectly with linen, silk or cotton thread, from No. 8 to 300, on all kinds of goods.

4th. It runs with great ease and very quietly.

- 5th. It cannot be run backward. 6th. It can be understood and operated perfectly, with very little instruction.

7th. In beauty of design and perfect mechanism it cannot be excelled.
8th. It combines durability, simplicity and practicability, to a greater degree than

We invite all to call and see the Machine work, or send for a descriptive circular and

TESTIMONIALS.

We, the undersigned, Merchant Tailors and Cutters, having thoroughly examined the stitch of Moore's Patent Sewing Machine, have no hesitancy in pronouncing it superior to any we have ever before seen. The Stitch is elastic and durable.

INDIANAPOLIS.

Indianapolis, the capital of the State of Indiana, and the conaty seat of Marion county, is situated on the east bank of the West Fork of White river, within five miles of the geographical center of the State, and nearly in the center of the county, at the crossing of the National Road, and immediately below the mouth of Fall Creek, in latitude 39° 55′ north, and longitude 86° 5′—573 miles west-by-north from Washington City, and 110 miles north-west from Cincinnati. It was first settled on the 2d day of March, 1819, by John Pogue, and, in 1820, was selected as the permanent seat of government. The public offices were removed from Corydon, the former capital, on the first of January, 1825.

The city was laid out in 1821, and the first sale of lots took place the same year. It is beautifully laid off, the streats being from sixty to one hundred feet in width, crossing each other stright angles, except four diagonal, broad avenues which converge to a circular area, and afford easy access to every section of the city. The streets are beautifully embellished with forest and ornamental shade trees.

With the romance of the early settlement of this city, this Directory has nothing to do; the trials and hardships of our early settlers are matters of history. It is to present the importance of Indianapolis to-day, that the space allotted to the subject is designed. Our city has superior advantages for becoming a large manufacturing city. From her geographical position—being in the center of the State, and accessible from all points of the compass, by railroad—the advantages Indianapolis affords for the profitable investment of capital and labor in every department of industry, will bear favorable comparison with those of any other city in the West. In her manufacturing career she has built up a foundation of remarkable solidity for the future increase of her commercial and manufacturing operations. The Central Canal and Fall Creek afford water power sufficient for all kinds of machinery. Wood is cheap, and the supply abundant. Inexhaustible beds of coal, quarries of stone, and mines of iron ore, each of the very best quality, are opened within a convenient distance of the city. Coal is furnished at from ten to eleven cents per bushel. Formerly, the position of the city was completely inland but the completion of the Madison and Indianapolis railroad, in the fall of 1847, marked a new era in its history. The population at that time was about 4,000, and the town had scarcely any manufactures or trade. Now her inhabitants number fully 30,000, and the hum of machinery in her rapidly increasing manufactures can be heard everywhere. Eight railroads, viz: Madison and Indianapolis, Jeffersonville and Indianapolis, Terre Haute and Richmond, Lafayette and Indianapolis, Peru and Indianapolis, Bellefontaine, Indiana Central, and Indianapolis and Cincinnati, terminating at Indianapolis, comprising 1600 miles of track, have been finished, and all of them the best paying roads in the West. Other roads are under contract, the most important of which, and that of the greatest magnitude, is the Indiana and Illinois Cen-This, when completed, will open up to Indianapolis an immense additional trade and travel from the West and North-west.

These different railways, having 12,000 miles of connections, directly center here, making this point the greatest railroad center in the world. They bring all parts of this and the neighboring States within a few hours ride of Indianapolis, and connect with all the important routes of trade and travel in the West. To give an idea of the superior railway advantages of this city, it need only be said that the citizens of 80 out of 92 counties in the State can leave their homes in the morning, visit Indianapolis, attend to their business, and return the same day. About five thousand persons visit the city every twenty-four hours, and about one hundred trains of every description pass, in and out of the city daily.

The Union Railway Company was organized in 1850, and the magnificent passenger depot was finished for the reception of trains in the fall of 1853. The plan originated with John Brough and the late O. H. Smith, and was carried into operation by the Madison, Bellefontaine, and Terre Haute railroad companies. It consists of a common trunk for all the railroads centering at Indianapolis, with a passenger depot errected upon it, in which the passengers from all the roads enter and leave the cars, and where exchanges of cars are made without cost for the passengers and baggage.

This main trunk is connected with the several freight depots by branch tracks.

Subsequently to the organization of this company, the Indianapolis and Cincinnati and the Indiana Central companies were admitted as equal partners, and the Union Deport Company, as it now exists is composed of the Madison and Indianapolis, the Bellefontaine, the Terre Haute and Richmond, the Indianapolis and Cincinnati, and the Indiana Central companies, as equal partners; the president of each of these companies being a director of the Union Company, from whom a presiding officer is chosen.

The other companies are now using the Union depot and tracks on rental; and as new roads are made to the city ample provision will be made for their admission to this new indispensable arrangement. The entire cost of the Union depot, tracks and right of way has been one hundred and thirty thousand dollars.

The different railroads that center here, traverse regions unsurpassed in agricultural and mineral resources; and while they afford ready facilities for transporting goods and the products of the many workshops and factories of this city to those who need them, they also supply the means of bringing hither the raw material requisite for their production. No State in the Union, with equal extent of territory, excels Indiana in natural resources. Her rich soil, fine forests of timber, pure streams of water, together with inexhaustible beds of coal, iron, marble, stone, etc., place her in reliable sources of wealth among the first States of the Union. The city is improving with great rapidity. Capital expended in building, invested in real estate and in all classes of manufactures, yield large and sure returns.

The wholesale business is carried on extensively, and many large wholesale and retail establishments of dry goods, groceries, hardware, drugs, clothing, books and stationery, have day by day been added to its already large mercantile interests, and yet all are amply patronized. The demands of the country merchant can be supplied upon terms equal to those offered in eastern cities. Mercantile men throughout the State are becoming aware of these facts, and are making Indianapolis the head quarters of their trade. Persons unacquainted with the extent of its business will be astounded at the amount of exchange done by banks and brokers of this city. The exchange each year will not fall short of fifteen millions of dollars. Knowing this to be a healthful and prosperous condition of mercantile interest, men, who would consult their own gains, should look about for the reasons, The whole secret is embraced in the fact that the merchants of Indianapolis can at all times of the year supply themselves with every article of merchandise direct from the manufactories, and upon very short notice. Rents, clerk hire, and every expense is much reduced comparatively with Eastern' cities, so that prices can be brought to compete with any Eastern market. Freights, insurance and other incidentals are greatly decreased when large stocks are purchased, and therefore its wholesale establishments can furnish the country merchant cheaper than he could purchase and forward his stocks from Eastern or Southern cities. These advantages will daily increase as the patronage of country merchants becomes more extended, both parties will be greatly benefitted, country merchants can constantly keep a perfect supply, and make quick turns of their capital; and the wholesale establishments of Indianapolis will increase in number and importance. It is for the interest of every merchant in Indiana to make Indianapolis his place of purchase and sale.

The following list of houses do a large wholesale business in their several branches of trade. There are others whose jobbing, as well as retail transactions, amount to a large sum annually.

pers, card board, &c., at this house, equal in quality to that bought at Cincinnati or other Western markets, and at as low figures. Merrill & Co.'s establishment is in Glenn's Block, East Washington street. They are the principal dealers in law books, and have a very large stock of books and stationery of every description. Werden & Co., 26 East Washington, keep the largest stock of medical books in the city, and are extensively engaged in the wall paper business.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

The two establishments exclusively in this trade, are V. K. Hendricks & Co., 76 West Washington, and Et C. Mayhew & Co., 8 Louisiana street, opposite Union Depot. These establishments have every facility by large capitals and connections with East-tern manufacturing houses, of keeping stocks suitable to this market at Eastern prices, adding cost of transportation.

CHINA, GLASS AND QUEENSWARE.

There are two extensive houses in this branch of business, viz: Hawthorn & Buchanan, 83 East Washington, and Jacob Lindley, 16 West Washington street.

CLOTHING AND GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

There are none exclusively wholesale. The leading houses are, Dessay Brothers, Glaser & Bro., and Moritz, Bro. & Co., who do perhaps all the jobbing in this line of business in the city.

DRUGS AND MEDICINES.

In this business there are three houses who do a very large wholesale trade, viz: Robert Browning, 22 West Washington; C. G. Perkins & Co., 14 West Washington, and Wm. Hannaman, 40 East Washington street. These establishments keep druggists' glassware, and everything necessary to the fitting up of retail stores.

DRY GOODS.

There is only one exclusive wholesale dry goods house—J. A. Crossland, 75 West Washington street. At this house country merchants will find as large and complete an assortment of staple and fancy dry goods, cloths, cassimeres, &c., as cheap and at as low figures as anywhere in the Western country.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

C. A. Elliott & Co., 34 South Meridian; M. Fitzgibbon & Co., 77 South Meridian; John W. Holland, 72 East Washington; P. Kirland, 73 South Meridian; Alford, Mills & Co., 36 East Washington; Andrew Wallace, corner Delaware and Virginia avenue; Wright, Bates & Maguire, Bates House building, West Washington, and A. & H. Schnull, cor. Washington and Delaware. The above list comprises all first class houses, and do an exclusive wholesale business.

HARDWARE, CUTLERY, AND METALS.

The city is supplied with six hardware stores, viz: A. D. Wood, 12 West and 85 East Washington; B. Pottage, 72 West Washington; J. H. Vajen, 21 West Washington; C. Vonnegut, 142 E. Washington, and J. B. Wilson, West Washington.

LEATHER AND SHOE FINDINGS.

There are five houses doing an immense business in this trade. Four of these establishments manufacture leather, and keep, in the aggregate about 100 men in employment. The names and locations are as follows: John Fishback, 30 South Meridian; Mooneys & Co., 75 South Meridian; J. K. Sharpe, 96 East Washington; C. Vonnegut, 142 East Washington; and Yandes & Co., 38 East Washington.

IRON, STEEL AND CARRIAGE TRIMMINGS.

In this business there are three houses, viz: Murphy & Holliday, 34 East Washington; Thomas Buist, 70 West Washington, and B. Pottage, 72 West Washington.

MUSIC, MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS AND PIANOS.

Willard & Stowell, 4 Bates House, are the most extensive dealers in sheet music, musical instruments and pianos, in the State. Pianos from the best makers in the country, are kept at this establishment.

SPECTALES AND OPTICAL INSTRUMENTS.

The establishment of L. W. Moses is at 20 East Washington. This is the only wholesale house in the city.

SEED STORES.

In this busines, P. S. Birkenmayer & Co., 74 East Washington, and David Braden, 84 West Washington, are the only establishments.

TEAS.

There are five wholesale tea houses—Donaldson, Maxfield & Prine, 71 West Washington; P. Kirland, 73 South Meridian, and James Muir, 33 West Market; Ludden & Lee, Bates House Building, and Daggett & Co., South Meridian.

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

In this trade, wholesale, there are three establishments—those of Donaldson, Maxfield & Prine; P. Kirland; Geo. F. Meyer, 35 West Washington; Lichtenhein & Son, — West Washington, and J. A. Heidlinger, 3 Palmer House.

WALL PAPERS.

Werden & Co. and Wm. H. Roll do the principal business in this line.

WINES AND LIQUORS.

There are about ten wholesale liquor houses; these keep all kinds of liquors, wines, cigars, &c.

YANKEE NOTIONS, TOYS, &C.

In this department of trade there are three houses engaged, viz: Hausmann & Co., 6 East Washington; Klotz & Pfafflin, 29 West Washington, and S. Bing, jr., 32 and 2 West Washington.

MANUFACTURES.

In manufacturing establishments, the city contains the following, viz: Agricultural implements, blank book making, boilers and steam engines, boots and shoes, brass and bell founderies, breweries, brick making, carriage and wagon making, cigars, ctothing, cooperage, coppersmithing, edge tools, file making, flouring mills, iron founderies and machine shops, furniture and cabinet ware, gilding and picture frames, gunsmithing, leather, iron railing, lard oil, soap and candles, lasts and pegs, lightning rods, marble works, model building, pianos, paint and color works, paper boxes, pump making, railroad iron rolling mill, saddles and harness, sash doors and blinds, saw works, lumber, silver plating, stoneware, tinware and stoves, trunk and valise making, umbrellas, vinegar, woolen goods, shingles and lath machines, and patent machines of every description.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

There are four establishments that manufacture all kinds of tarming implements, and five other houses who only keep warehouses here, and have their wares manufactured elsewhere. The manufacturing firms are Wiggins & Chandler, who have a large machine shop on West Washington street, near White River bridge. Their propelling power is furnished by steam, and also from the canal. They employ on an average about twenty men.

Beard, Starr & Co. have had built for them, during the last summer, a magnificent machine shop, by Valentine Butsch, in rear of Metropolitan Hall, on Tennessee street. The building, with all its machinery complete, will be ready for occupancy early in the spring of 1861.

Dawson, East Washington, near New Jersey street, manufactures plows, harrows, &c.

Samuel Binkley, (lately removed from Wayne county,) has built a large factory on the south east corner of Merrill and Tennes ee streets, and manufactures all kinds of agricultural implements.

BOOK BINDING AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURING.

There are four book binderies in the city, viz: Bingham & Doughty, Sentinel Building, who keep employed from 15 to 20 hands. Douglas & Palmer, $36\frac{1}{2}$ East Washington, employ from 5 to 12 hands. Sheets & Braden, 77 West Washington, employ about 20 hands. Campbell & Bro., 37 East Washington street, employ 5 hands.

BOILER MAKING.

This branch of industry is carried on by Dumont & Sinker, who have the largest boiler works in the State. They employ in this department some fifteen to twenty hands.

STEAM ENGINES.

Portable and stationary engines are manufactured by Hasselman & Vinton, and Dumont & Sinker. The engines manufactured by these two firms are better (judging from premiums awarded them) in style of finish, durability and power, than any manufactured in the United States. Dumont & Sinker employ in this department 25 men, and Hasselman & Vinton 30 men.

IRON FOUNDERIES.

Dumont & Sinker employ in their foundery, and every department of it, 55 men, Hasselman & Vinton, 73 men; Redstone, Bro. & Co., 5 men, and I. Davis & Co., 5 men.

BELL AND BRASS FOUNDERIES.

There are two firms engaged in this business, viz: J. W. Davis & Co., and Cleary & Little, who employ, in the aggregate, 10 men.

MACHINE SHOPS.

Of these there are seven, viz: Hasselman & Vinton, Dumont & Sinker, Redstone, Bro. & Co., I. Davis & Co., Samuel Binkley, Wiggins & Chandler, and Beard, Starr & Co., employing, altogether, over three hundred men.

CARRIAGE MAKING.

In this business there are five firms, viz; S. W. Drew, George Lowe, H. R. Gaston, Harding & Hilt, and Levy Sutherland, engaged, turning out carriages, coaches, buggies, &c., equal in workmanship, and much more durable than any Eastern work. These employ a number of workmen, such as blacksmiths, carriage makers, trimmers and painters.

FURNITURE AND CABINET WARE.

There are eight firms manufacturing furniture and fine cabinet ware, employing over two hundred men. Sloan & Ingersoll; Speigel, Thoms & Co., and Myers & Witthoft, are each doing a large manufacturing and wholesale business. Furniture of every description can be bought at either of these establishments, at lower rates than at Cincinnati.

IRON RAILING.

This business is extensively carried on by Williamson & Haugh, North Delaware street, above Washington. They employ from 10 to 15 hands.

LARD OIL, SOAP AND CANDLES.

LASTS, SPOKES, HUBS AND FELLOES.

This business is carried on by Osgood, Smith & Co. They employ a large number of hands, have a heavy capital invested, and are doing an immense business. They have lately discontinued the manufacture of pegs, and now only make lasts, carriage and wagon wood trimmings of every description.

LIGHTNING RODS.

In this branch of busines, Locke & Munson supply about the entire West, and much of the East and South. They manufacture the celebrated Copper Tubular Lightning Rod, with spiral flanges, patented in 1856, by David Munson, which is taking the place of the iron rod as fast as its properties become known.

MACHINE WORKS.

An establishment of this kind is carried on by Redstone, Bro. & Co., who are inventors, and munufacture shingle and lath machines, wood sawing, washing, morticing, and other valuable machines of their own invention and construction. Their foundery and machine shop is situated on Delaware, opposite Indianapolis and Cincinnati Railroad freight depot.

MECHANICAL MUSEUM.

Park & Dennis, 82 Metropolitan Hall, have the general agency for a number of labor saving machines, consisting of Ladd, Webster & Co.'s, Holley's Sewing Machines, and Vogle's Button Hole and Embroidering Sewing Machines, Goff's Knitting Machines, Calvin's Milking Machines, French's Conical Washing Machines, Bartlett's Refrigerator and Water Cooler combined, Green's Patent Machinery Belt Clasps, and other useful articles.

MARBLE WORKS.

Of these there are seven, viz: Jason Dame, Michael Downey, W. W. James & Co., Richards & Goddard, J. H. Seybold & Co., Scott, Nicholson & Co., and J. W. Weir & Bro. Two of these, Scott, Nicholson & Co., and Richards & Goddard, are engaged in the dressing and cutting of stone for building purposes.

PAINT AND COLOR WORKS.

This business has been carried on in this city about one year, by the Western Paint Co. They manufacture all kinds of colored paints, either dry or in oil. The colors are manufactured by a new process, which is patented. Paints are sold by this house at a lower price than at Eastern markets, and are equally as good in quality, lustre and durability.

PAPER BOX MAKING.

Charles H. Grobe, 125 East Washington, is the only manufacturer of paper boxes in this city.

PATENT MEDICINES.

This branch of business is carried on by J. M. Frost & Co., 5 North Meridian. They employ over thirty men as travelling agents, for the sale of their medicines.

PIANO FORTES.

There is one Piano manufactory in this city, Geo. Traeyser, proprietor. The best professors and teachers of the piano pronounce his instruments equal in tone and finish to the best made in the country.

PUMP MAKING.

There are three firms engaged in this business, keeping about 15 men in constant employment.

ROLLING MILL.

This mill was built for the manufacture and renewal of railroad iron, and cost (including machinery) $125,000. It has the capacity of turning out fourteen thousand tuns of new iron annually, and of consuming the same amount of coal. On entering the mill at the east door, will be seen to the left a range of six iron furnaces, set in pairs, to which tin pipes lead a current of air from little "blowers," run by belts overhead. The furnaces are in front of the boilers, and the heat that melts the iron is conducted under them and makes the steam, thus saving a double outlay of fuel. The fire chamber is in the front part of the furnace, which is highest, inclining towards the boilers, and the heating chamber, dazzling with heat, is where the iron is heated for rolling. The rollers stand on the right on entering the house. They are immense masses of iron, grooved and cut so as to shape the iron as if passes through them, into a rail. There are two sets of rollers. The set next the door is intended only to roll the iron as it comes from the furnace into flat slabs of some few feet long by six inches wide, and an inch in thickness. is worked by a huge steam engine of a new construction, made in Covington, in which the power is applied directly to the shaft that turns the rollers, without the interposition of gearing. A very considerable waste of power is thus avoided. An immense "fly wheel," sixteen feet in diameter, and weighing twenty tuns, regulates the motion and gives steadiness to the power of the engine. Just beyond this is the other set of rollers, in which the rail is finished. The slabs rolled by the first set are laid together, six at a time, thus making a bar six inches square, by six feet long, which is again put in the furnace and heated, It is then rolled through the second set of rollers, which give it the shape, and finally turn it out a complete rail, lacking only sawing, cooling, and straightening. The second set of rollers, like the first, has its own powerful engine, (about 100 horse power,) and its own fly wheel. By this double arrangement great advantages are secured, as if any obstruction or accident stops one series of rollers, the other can still go on, instead of bringing thewhole mill to a halt, stopping the hands, and wasting the heat of the furnaces. She whole mill is arranged in the best manner, and with all the improvements that have been made in such work. It is believed to be the best rolling mill in the Union, combining more advantages and fewer liabilities to obstruction and loss, than any other.

The bar, after coming from the last roller, is carried upon a little railway to a frame where it is sawed off the proper length for use. This saw, again, has its own engine. After the sawing, the rail is run upon a bed prepared for it, where the cooling goes on in such a manner that the curve of the rail as it comes from the roller, is counteracted by the contractiou in cooling, and the rail is at last left cold and straight. To make sure of its being perfectly straight, however, it is passed under the pressure of a massive iron "straightener," that comes down upon it with a gradual but enormous force.

The shafting and some of the machinery of the mill were made by Hasselman & Vinton, and the boilers by Dumont & Sinker both firms of this city.

OFEICERS.—J. M. Lord, President and Superintendent; C. B. Parkman, Secretary; W. O. Rockwood, Treasurer; John Thomas, manager; J. R. Blake, Time Keeper.

DIRCTORS.—John M. Lord, James Blake, Wm. Wallace, and John Thomas.

SEWING MACHINE AGENCIES.

In this business there are four Agencies; that of C. H. Williams, who has the agency of the Wheeler & Wilson machine; O. M. Olcott, the Moore machine; N. D. Ruckle, the Grover & Baker; Park & Dennis, the Ladd, Webster & Co,'s, and Holley's machines, and Vogle's Button-hole and Embroidery Sewing machines.

SADDLES, HARNESS, COLLAR MAKING, AND DEALERS IN SADDLERY HARDWARE.

The firms engaged in this business are Sulgrove and Reynolds, 20 West Washington, who do a very large business and employ thirty men; Hinesley and Kelly, 34 West Washington, are engaged largely in the manufacturing of harness, saddles, bridles, &c., and give employment to about twenty hands; Jerome B. Sulgrove, 44 East Washington, is doing an extensive business, and employs about ten hands. The others engaged in the retail manufacturing business, are John Andra, Charles Nicolai, and James M. Blair.

SASH, BLINDS, AND DOORS.

In this business there are three firms, Kregelo, Blake & Co., Geo. W. Hill, and Byrkit & Beam. These have plaining mills in connection with their establishments. They turn out a large amount of work, and give employment to about one hundred hands.

SAW WORKS.

The only saw works in the State are located in this city, where saws of every description are made from the very best material, and are as good as any made in the country. The factory is owned by Elias C. Atkins, and is located at No. 155 South Illinois street.

STOVE FOUNDERY.

One of the largest stove works in the West is carried on here by Root, Bennett & Co. They have lately built a large brick building, in connection with their foundery, to accommodate and furnish additional facilities for their large and constantly increasing trade. The ware-rooms are at No. 68 East Washington, and the foundry Pennsylvania, between Louisiana and South streets.

TRUNKS AND VALISES.

The only exclusive maker in this business is H. Becker, No. 30 West Washington.

UMBRELLA MAKING.

John F. Mayer, 60 East Washington, started an establishment of this kind about eighteen months ago.

VINEGAR FACTORIES.

The principal firm engaged in this business is Ludlow & Atkins. Factory, South street, near Madison depot.

WOOLEN GOODS.

Indianapolis can boast of two extensive woolen factories; that of G. W. Geisendorff & Co., 268 West Washington, and Merritt & Coughlin, directly opposite. In this business a large capital is invested in machinery, engines, &c., and with the constant demands for ready means in the purchase of raw material, too much cannot be said in praise of the enterprise and perseverance of the above above firms in adding so much to the manufacturing interests and prosperity of Indianapolis.

MASONIC HALL.

Is located on the south-east corner of West Washington and Tennessee streets; three stories in highth. The lower, or first floor is divided into a number of spacious business rooms, while the second is a large commodious hall, known as Masonic Concert Hall, and is capable of seating about 2,000 persons. The Hall is finished in a beautiful style of art. The walls are of a beautiful rose tint-the cornice in silver white, with a beautiful Raphael scroll, relieved by a brilliant blue ground, while the ceiling is tinted in such a manner as to give the impression of a greater height to the Hall. It is handsomely elaborated with stucco center pieces in white and blue which lend a soft mellow appearance The wood work is in equally good taste, to the whole interior. being pure white. The Grand Lodge Room is considered Mr. Gulick's master-piece. The walls are laid off in variegated mar-The ceiling represents the "star-decked canopy," and is beautiful beyond description. On the east wall is a correct representation of the "Grand Eastern Gate." Its drapery and surroundings are considered, by connaisseurs, unequalled.

Mr. Gulick seems to have caught the spirit of his work, and has certainly won for himself a lasting reputation on this, his chef d'ovre.

It is designed to finish the Chapter, and Commandery lodge rooms, and ante-rooms, in appropriate style, early in the Spring. For the Concert Hall, new and beautiful scenery is to be painted by Mr. Gulick.

ODD FELLOWS HALL.

This splendid building is situated on the north-east corner of Pennsylvania and Washington streets, and is a model of architectural beauty and excellence. It was built in 1854, at an expense of \$43,000; and is one of the finest and most prominent specimens of architectural skill in the State, and a great ornament to the city. It is three stories in height, fronting $67\frac{1}{2}$ feet on Washington street, and 100 on Pennsylvania, presenting a grand and imposing appearance. The lower floor is divided into five large and commodious store rooms; the second floor is occupied by the Mayor and other city officers, two publishing houses, and a general Insurance Agency; and the third is occupied by the several subordinate lodges of the Order in the city, and the Grand and Subordinate encampments.

Despite the efforts made, for gain, by parties in the Eastern States, last Spring, this noble brotherhood still flourishes in our midst, dispensing its blessed charities on all the deserving. They ask not of what clime or country a man is a native, or what may be his political or religious belief, for them it is all sufficient to know that sorrow exists, and they can alleviate; that misery and famine dwell in this land of plenty, and they can provide means of relief. Oh, who can number the prayers of thankfulness, the tears of happiness, and the smiles of joy brought into being by tha timely acts of this noble-hearted band! They have felt that "It is more blessed to give than to receive," and, with liberal hand bestow upon the needy out of their abundance.

In February of 1860, the Chief Councillors of the Order assembled in Washington City, and adopted a new mode of organization, and an entirely new ritual. Under this organization the Lodges at this place are now working, and great good has resulted from their efforts. If the present unhappy condition of our beloved country be ever bettered, if there ever exists a kinder feeling between the two sections of the country than at the present time, it will be in a great measure due to the efforts for pacification now being put forth by the members of this Order.

STATE FAIR GROUNDS.

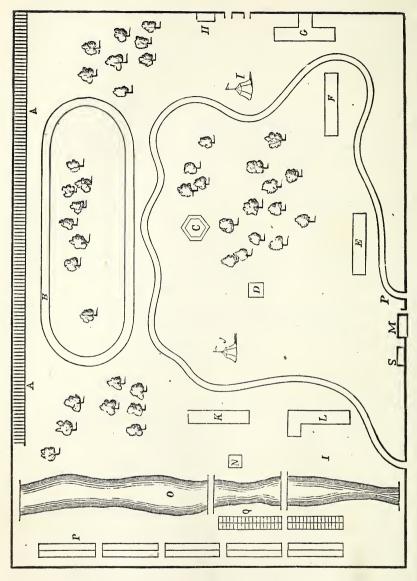

(See Engraving.)

The Fair Grounds are situated about one mile and a half from Washington street, north of the city, and are accessible by railroad, and by well laid out streets and carriage roads. The Peru railroad line, being the nearest running to the grounds, have laid a branch track whereby visitors are conveyed from the Union Depot direct to the Fair grounds, at the charge of five cents each way.

The inclosure contains thirty-six acres of land, and was a spot, even at its purchase, of great natural beauty, though only made fit for the purpose to which it is now adapted by a vast outlay of money, being under the direction of those who possessed the taste to adorn it with the proper attributes of art.

The principal ticket office is situated on the south side of the grounds, near which are both the carriage and foot entrances. The carriage drive takes a circuitous route through the grounds, giving the visitor a view of the several halls, the race course and stables.

Nearly the whole of the north side of the grounds is occupied by stalls for horses, of which there are two hundred. The cattle stalls, numbering two hundred and fifty, occupy the extreme west end, the sheep and hog pens adjoining. These stalls are substantially built, well covered, and abundantly supplied with water.

The halls, already built, are five in number, and intended for the exhibition of machinery, domestic manufactures, farm produce, fine arts, etc., together with a large and commodious dining hall.

The race course, situated at the north part of the grounds, convenient to the horse stalls, is one third of a mile in circumference, well fenced in and leveled.

The committee house is a two story frame, situated about the center of the grounds.

During the last fair there were several tents erected for exhibition purposes, the time being too short to complete the whole of the buildings necessary.

By the next fair the managers intend erecting a pagoda, with a music stand attached, which will form the most attractive building on the ground.

The location of the State Fair permanently at Indianapolis, will give entire satisfaction to all parties. Our State Capital has facilities for access through its "spider-web" of railroads centering there, which the capital of no other State possesses, and hence the manifest propriety of a permanent location in Indiana, when, perhaps, the same might not be true of any other State.

By the liberality of the citizens of Indianapolis, and the aid afforded by a number of the Railroad companies, the Board have fitted up and arranged the most beautiful and convenient Fair Grounds in the United States. The entire fixtures are built of pine lumber, and combine all the modern improvements and conveniences of the day.

COLLEGES, ACADEMIES AND SEMINARIES.

NORTH-WESTERN CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY.

This Institution is situated in the north-eastern portion of the city. It is a brick structure, with stone foundation, quoings and copings. The style of architecture is the collegiate gothic, happily blending the substantial with the symmetric and graceful. The plat of ground on which this building is situated, embraces twenty-five acres, covered with primitive forest trees, whose rich foliage and dense shades are suggestive to the classic student of the consecrated glories of the Ancient Academy. Although but a few years established, there are many evidences of its prosperity, It embraces two literary societies, the Mathesian and Pythonian, both prosperous and vigorous. Its financial prosperity is indicated by the amount of stock secured by the Company, which is $103,800, besides $20,000 or $25,000 outstanding and unclosed accounts.

The usual chemical and philosophical apparatus is secured, as is also a superior cabinet of minerals. This institution is under the patronage of the Christian Church, the religious character of which is thus defined.

A part of the work of the Institution shall be to teach and inculcate Christianity, faith and Christian morality as taught in the sacred scriptures, discarding as uninspired and without authority, all writings, formulas, creeds, and articles of faith, subsequent thereto. In conformity to the spirit of the charter, the Bible is used as a text book.

The great beauty of this Institution of learning, is that it is open to both sexes, furnishing to any young lady who may choose to enter upon a course of collegiate study, odvantages coequal with that secured to male students. That these advantages have been improved by a large number of young ladies, the Faculty are able to testify. Ohio and Iowa each have Institutions of this character, yet this is the only one in Indiana. Ohio has two—the Antioch College, at Yellow Springs, in Green county, and Baldwin University, (location not known to the writer;) and Iowa one, at Mt. Pleasant.

This system of securing to woman that thorough education, heretofore so much neglected, and the broad and liberal development that shall make her not a doll of fashion, or an observant of vain and foolish flatteries, but a woman—a true companion, and fit to grace and adorn the sphere which it is her mission to fill.

Saml. K. Hoshour, Pres., New Jersey, between Ohio and Market streets. A. R. Benton, Prof. of Ancient Languages and Literature. M. Evans, Prof. of the Preparatory School, residence Fort Wayne Avenue. Mrs. N. Burns, Teacher in the English School, and Governess, at Forest Home. Mrs. E. J. Price, Teacher in the English School, at Mrs. Taffa's boarding house, on Pennsylvania, near Blind Asylum. A. C. Asher, Teacher of Instrumental Music.

INDIANAPOLIS FEMALE INSTITUTE.

North-east corner of Pennsylvania and Michigan streets.

The Superintendent is happy in being able to announce to the friends and patrons of the School, that a New Chapel has been erected, also additional rooms for boarders; and no pains will be spared on his part, and that of the founders of the School, to give every facility in their power for the accommodation of those who may attend.

The Principal will be assisted the coming year by her sister, Miss Jennie D. Williams, formerly connected with the City Schools, and Miss Mary M. Ellis, a graduate of the Western Female Seminary, of Oxford, Ohio, who has been engaged the last year in the Schools of Alton, Ill. Competent teachers will be employed for the Modern Languages and Painting.

The Musical Department will be under the charge of Miss Lucy Tinsley, who is well known to the citizens of Indianapolis.

The Primary Department will be conducted under the instruction of Miss Wright, who taught the past year with so much success. The grounds about the Institution are ample and retired, and afford fine advantages for physical development during the hours of recreation.

HALLS AND PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

METROPOLITAN HALL.

This magnificent structure was commenced in 1858, by its present proprietor VALENTINE BUTSCH, Esq., and completed the same year, at a cost of $56,000. As its name indicates, it is a capital building; a model in its inception, construction and finish; not only a credit to the enterprise of Mr. Butsch, but an ornament to the city of Indianapolis. It is situated on the corner of West Washington and Tennessee streets, fronting 82 feet on the former, and 125 on the latter; built of brick, the entire front being finished with a grey cement, which imparts to it a beautiful and neat appearance. Although this Hall is not as large as "The National," of Boston, it is nevertheless quite as perfect in all its appointments and adaptations to dramatic performances, and an appropriate place of resort for those who would worship at the shrine of Thespis. The interior arrangement is of superior order, and will comfortably seat 2,000 per-The decorations are second to none in the United States. while the rich and variegated frescoes, serve but to elicit the admiration of the most eminent connaiseurs of the fine arts. For the masterly touches, which lend such an air of enchantment to this much admired Hall, Mr. Butsch, as well as the theatre-going public, are indebted to an Italian painter from Cincinnati, while the act drop, representing "Youth," the first series of "Cole's Voyage of Life," was executed by our fellow-citizen, S. W. Much of the new scenery has been painted by the celebrated scenic artist, Mr. Glessing, who is at present engaged at this Hall as scenic painter.

STATE HOUSE.

The erection of this house was commenced in the summer of 1832, and pushed vigorously forward; and although the commissioners and contractors were allowed until the 1st of November 1838, for its completion, yet it was finished in the fall of 1836, and occupied by the Legislature of that winter. The site occupied by the building was originally low, but after its final completion, the square was filled up as much as nine feet, and planted in trees, which have grown to their present size, and present an air of beauty to the square, although the building is going into decay. It was built of brick, covered with stucco in imitation of sand-stone, the cost of which was about $60,000, and when first completed was regarded by the citizens of the State as a monument of taste and munificence. Its style of architecture is Doric, a large dome rising over the rotunda, supporting a cap ornament, modeled after the tomb of Lycidas. It, as well as the Governor's Circle and the Court House, was built by the fund derived from the sales of lots in the city.

ÆTNA BUILDING.

This building is situated on Pennsylvania street, and was erected by the Ætna Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., and cost $22,000. It is four stories in height, with basement. The first floor is divided into two store rooms; the second, the Company's office and law offices; the third, law offices, and the fourth, which is a large and spacious Hall, as an armory or drill room, by the Indianapolis National Guards and the Zouave Guards. The building is 40 feet front on Pennsylvania, by 67½ in depth, with an additional building in the rear, 22½ by 60 feet, three stories high. This fine building has been recently erected, and is another important addition to the architectural beauty of our city.

UNITED STATES COURT HOUSE AND POST OFFICE.

This new and elegant cut-stone building, situated on the southeast corner of Market and Pennsylvania streets, is nearing completion, and will be ready for occupancy about the 4th of March next. It is three stories high, fire proof, fronting 65 feet on Market street, by 91 feet on Pennsylvania. The first floor will be occupied by the Post Office; the second by United States offices, and the third as the United States Court room. It has been four years in course of erection, and will cost, when fully completed, about $150,000, the whole superintendency of which has been under the charge of EDWIN MAY, Esq., architect, of this city, who stands pre-eminently at the head of his profession.

COLLEGE HALL.

This building is situated on the south-west corner of Washington and Pennsylvania streets. It is occupied as a Musical Academy.

TEMPERANCE HALL.

North side Washington, between Meridian and Illinois.

UNION HALL.

South side Washington, between Delaware and Alabama. It is used as a Concert Hall.

MILITARY HALL.

North side Washington between Meridian and Pennsylvania; used as an armory or drill room by the City Greys, and Independent Zouaves, and as a lodge room by the Sons of Malta.

COURT HOUSE AND COUNTY OFFICES.

Court House square, north side Washington, between Delaware and Alabama.

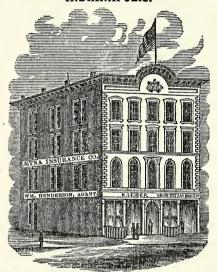

SENTINEL BUILDING. .

This was formerly the old Capital House; the first floor is occupied as store rooms; the second, as the State Sentinel editorial, mailing and counting rooms, and some law offices; the third by law and publishing offices; the fourth as an extensive book bindery and blank book manufactory, owned by Bingham & Doughty, proprietors of the Daily and Weekly State Sentinel. In the rear of this building are the composing rooms and press rooms of the Sentinel.

YOHN'S BUILDING.

Among the new, elegant and substantial buildings that have been erected within the last two years, is Yohn's fine four story brick, on the north-east corner of Washington and Meridian. It is occupied, on the first floor, by the Branch Bank of the State of Indiana, and store rooms; the second, third and fourth floors as offices. This building is the universal admiration of strangers visiting the city, and reflects credit upon the enterprise of Jas. C. Yohn, Esq., the proprietor, and the architect under whose charge it was erected.

JOURNAL BUILDING.

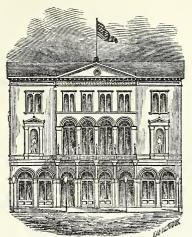

The Journal Company's building, recently built at a cost of near twenty thousand dollars, is a most substantial, durable and admirably arranged building. It is situated on the corner of Circle and Meridian, being four stories high, with basement. It is decidedly the best arranged and most convenient printing office in the western country—a model in its inception and construction, and a monument to the energy and enterprise of the Company under whose auspices it was erected.

RAY'S BUILDING.

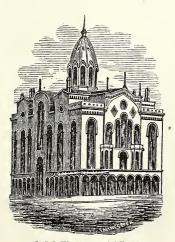

North side of Washington, between Meridian and Illinois, with its elegant marble front, four stories in height, is a model in architectural design and beauty. It was erected by James M. Ray, Esq. The first floor is occupied by Messrs. H. A. Fletcher & Co., as an immense dry goods and carpet store, being the finest store in the State.

BLACKFORD'S BUILDING.

This fine building is situated on the south-east corner of Meridian and and Washington streets. It is four stories high, with basement, and was erected by the late Judge Blackford. The first story, is occupied by the American and United States Express offices, Moritz, Bro. & Co.'s large clothing house, and Zeigler & Elliott's extensive dry goods and carpet store; the second floor is occupied by Locke & Munson, manufacturers of Munson's tubular copper lightning rods, R. J. Gatling's real estate office, Hayden, att'y at law, and State agency of Phænix Insurance Company, the law offices of Ketcham & Mitchell, and Harry Kiger; the third floor by Sturms, Steffens & Co., mathematical and philosophical instrument makers; the fourth is occupied as sleeping apartments. The building cost about thirty thousand dollars, and was completed in 1858.

GLENN'S BLOCK.

(See Engraving.)

This new and elegant block, erected and owned by Wm. Glenn, H. Glenn and R. P. Glenn, is situated on the south side of Washington, between Meridian and Pennsylvania sts., occupying the site of the old Browning Hotel, afterwards called the Wright House. It is three and a half stories high, being 68 feet front on Washington street, and extending back to Pearl street, containing three store rooms and eight offices; the side stores are 173 feet wide, and 132 feet deep. The center store, known as the NEW YORK STORE, is occupied by the proprietors of the block, W. & H. Glenn & Co., and is 321 feet in width by 132 feet in depth. This store is the mammoth dry goods establishment of the State. The offices are occupied by lawyers, doctors, architects, piano manufacturers, lightning rod manufacturers, a music teacher, Republican State Central Committee, intelligence office, and the Indiana American. One store (that on the east,) is occupied by Merrill & Co., dealers in law books, stationery, &c. The one on the west side has been occupied as a shoe store, at present closed up, the tenant having died. Being one of the most prominent places in the city, it will soon be open again. The appearance of this block is very attractive, chaste and elegant, without a fault, and is an ornament to our main street. It was rebuilt at a cost to the Messrs. Glenn of fortyfive thousand dollars.

MACY AND MCTAGGERT'S BUILDING.

This new building has been but recently erected by Messrs. Macy & McTaggert. It is one of the finest buildings in the city, and was built at a cost of about ten thousand dollars. It is four stories in height. The first story is occupied as a wholesale grocery house by A. & H. Schnull, the second as the offices of the President, Superintendent, and other officers of the Peru and Indianapolis Railroad Company, and the office of Mr. McTaggert; the third floor is fitted up for offices.

SENTINEL BUILDING.

INDIANA INSTITUTION FOR EDUCATING THE BLIND.

This building is located on Meridian street in the northern part of the city. It was completed in the year 1852, at a cost of about $100,000 to the State, and to which a large number of those who have the unutterable misfortune to be destitute of sight, are annually admitted, and taught not only the rudiments of a common education, but also the means of providing for their own subsistence by the acquisition of some of the mechanic arts, at which they very soon become adepts. The arrangement and manner in which this humane Institution is conducted can but impress the more fortunate with the benevolence of the design.

THIRD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Third Church colonized from the First, and was organized in September, 1851; the colony numbered twenty-one, only ten The Elders were Caleb Scudder, James Blake and H. C. Newcomb. In October, the Rev. David Stevenson was called to the charge of the Church, and has ever since labored in this growing field, zealously and faithfully, and his labors have been greatly blessed. In less than eight years, the twenty-one have become two hundred and fifty-four; and those who held their prayer meetings in a private house, and had their preaching in a public hall, are now permitted to praise God in their own Sanctuary. And this beautiful temple, wherein they may worship the God of their fathers, erected at an expense of some twentyeight thousand dollars, has been paid for almost entirely by themselves, only some fifteen hundred dollars having been contributed by persons not connected with the Church or congregation; in fact, the enterprise has been self sustaining from its very inception. And while thus bearing a heavy burden, it has been liberal in its contributions to the various Boards of the Church, and in other beneficent works. The Church building is comfortable and commodious. The eldership consists of James Blake, Caleb Scudder, John W. Hamilton, S. T. Bowen, William Stewart, and H. C. Newcomb. The Deacons are William Blake, James Wilson, and J. D. Carmichael.

The Sunday school connected with the Church is under the charge of Mr. James Blake. Commencing in October, 1851, with nine teachers, and twenty-five scholars, it now numbers upwards of thirty teachers, and nearly three hundred scholars. The first Sunday school in Indianapolis—and this was a union school, enlisting all the Churches in its behalf—was organized April 6, 1823, in Mr. Scudder's shop, and it numbered at the expiration of a year one hundred scholars.

When we contemplate the success that has crowned the efforts in behalf of Presbyterianism in Indianapolis, and especially when we look at the progress the Third Church has made in all the elements of spiritual growth, we may well exclaim, "Truly the Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad."—Pres. Hist, Almanac.

FOURTH PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Fourth Presbyterian Church of Indianapolis, corner of Market and Delaware streets, was organized in 1851, by a colony from the Second Presbyterian Church, and at once gave a unanimous call to Rev. Geo. M. Maxwell, who continued to be their pastor until the Fall of 1858, when he received a call to a Church in Cincinnati, and resigned his pastorate. On the 1st of October, 1859, Rev A. L. Brooks was unanimously settled the pastor of this Church.

The house of worship is large and commodious, well lighted, and has ample means for thorough warming. The style of architecture is Gothic. The andience room is plain and chaste. Cost of building, $18,000.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

North-west corner of Delaware and Ohio streets.

This Church was organized in 1846, as the "Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, of Indianapolis." Upon the Union of the Associate and Associate Reformed Presbyterian Churches, in in 1858, which constituted the United Presbyterian Church, its corporate and ecclesiastical name was changed to the "United Presbyterian Church, of Iudianapolis.

The house of worship is frame, fronting on Ohio street, west of Delaware. Size of Building, 30 by 40 feet, and will seat 160. Size of Church lot, 78 by 101 feet. Parsonage on Delaware street, north of Ohio.

Rev. Gilbert Small, Pastor; residence at Parsonage, No. 40, North Delaware street.

PLYMOUTH CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The Congregational Church in this city, was organized on the 9th day of Aug., 1857, taking the name, "The Plymouth Congregational Church of Indianapolis."

Its house of worship is located on the north-west corner of Circle and Meridian streets. This edifice is a substantial brick structure, built in a modified Gothic style. It contains, at present a chapel, or lecture room, haiving forty-seven pews, also a pastor's study, and social rooms. When completed according to the original design, the building is to have a large audience room in the rear.

For some time previous to the erection of their new edifice, this congregation worshipped in the Senate chamber at the State House.

The membership now numbers sixty-five. The whole number connected with it since the organization is seventy-five.

This Church is an independent ecclesiastical body, and in matters of doctrine, order and discipline, is answerable to no other organization. It, however, co-operates with other Christian churches for purposes of counsel, fellowship, and usefulness required by the true spirit of Christian love and union.

Rev. N. A. Hyde, its present pastor, was installed Nov. 12th, 1858. The Trustees of the Charch are A. G. Willard, E. T. Sinker, Dr. B. M. Ludden, Robert Bronson.

THE CHURCH OF THE UNITED BRETHREN IN CHRIST.

Was organized Dec. 1st, 1851, consisting of about 20 members, under the pastoral care of Rev. J. T. Vardaman.

They erected a house of worship, about the same time, on the corner of Ohio and New Jersey streets; a plain brick structure, 40 by 50 feet.

There has been connected with the church since the date of its organization, about 260 members. Now connected with the church, about 125 members.

Jacob Rubush, Thomas Evans, Fletcher Rubush, Wm. H. Kendrick, and Samuel Hanway, are the present Board of Trustees for the church property.

Number of pews, 52; all free. One Sabbath school; average number of scholars, 100; school meets every Sabbath, at 2 o'clock, P. M. Hours of public worship, 10½, A. M., and 7 o'clock, P. M., each Sabbath day; general prayer meeting every Thursday evening, 7 o'clock; general class the first Monday evening of each month, at 7 o'clock.

Rev. C. W. Witt is the present pastor. Place of residence No. 75 North New Jersey street.

WESLEY CHAPEL. (METHODIST.)

The first Methodist preacher sent to preach in Indianapolis was Rev. James Scott, who opened his mission, in 1822, to the people in a log cabin owned by Isaac Wilson. The first camp-meeting was held on James Given's farm, one mile from the Court House. Rev. Samuel Hamilton was Presiding Elder of the District.

The Methodists in Indianapolis purchased, in 1825, a hewed log house, which they afterwards enlarged so that it would accommodate about 200 persons. Cost of house and lot, about \$300. This building was used for a school house also. In 1829 the Methodists completed a better building, of brick, which stood where Wesley Chapel now stands. In 1846, that building was removed, and that large substantial temple, on the corner of Meridian and Circle streets, was erected, 65 by 80 feet, with a basement above ground, having a large lecture room, study, library and class room. The entrance to the audience room is from the vestibule, by two flight of stairs. There is a front gallery, two center and two side isles; the whole well lighted with gas. The house and lot are worth \$25,000. Will seat nearly 1,000 persons. The pastor occupies the parsonage, which is next door to the Chapel on Circle street. Public service every Sabbath at $10\frac{1}{2}$. A. M., and 7 o'clock, P. M. Also, on Thursday. Sabbath school, 2 o'clock, P. M.

ROBERTS' CHAPEL. (METHODIST.)

Corner of Pennsylvania and Market streets. Built in 1843, and is capable of seating near 800 persons. Cost about \$8,000, but has undergone considerable improvement since its erection. The names of pastors, since organization, are, John S. Bayless, John L. Smith, Samuel T. Gillett, George M. Beswick, John H. Hull, William Wilson, Samuel T. Cooper, Horatio N. Barnes, John W. T. McMullen, Charles W. Miller, William Wilson. Services on the Sabbath at $10\frac{1}{2}$, A. M., and 7 P. M. Sunday school 2, P. M. Prayer meetings Thursday evenings, at 7 o'clock.

ASBURY M. E. CHURCH.

Situated on west side New Jersey street, between Louisiana and South streets. Size, 40 by 65 feet, with basement. Organized in 1849, under the pastoral charge of Rev. Samuel T. Cooper, and the church edifice erected in 1850. Dedicated by Rev. Elijah Whitten, 1852. Names of Pastors since organization—Samuel T. Cooper, John B. DeMotte, Samuel T. Gillet, Samuel P. Crawford, J. W. T. McMullen, Joseph Cotton, Asbury F. Wester, Elijah D. Long, and John G. Chafee, its present pastor. Residence, No. 137 Virginia Avenue. Cost, $5,000. Membership, 300.

NORTH STREET M. E. CHURCH.

Is situated on the corner of North and Alabama streets, is a one story brick, built in 1854. It will seat 250 persons. First pastor, J. C. Smith; second, F. A. Hasden; third, John Hill; fourth, C. P. Wright. Services, each Sabbath at $10\frac{1}{2}$ A. M., and 7, P. M. Sabbath school at 2 o'clock. Prayer meeting Thursday evening. C. P. Wright, present pastor. Residence, 128 North Alabama street.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

An organization was formed in 1845, in the old Seminary building. Rev. B. F. Foster, and Rev. Charles Craven, were successively pastors of the church. Being weak in numbers and pecuniary ability, it finally languished. In January, 1854, meetings were resumed, in Temperance Hall, Mr. Foster again becoming pastor. In May the church was re-organized and after using Washington Hall and Masonic Hall each a few months, College Hall was secured, where meetings have been held ever since. In August, 1859, Mr. Foster's pastoral connection with the church ceased, and Rev. W. C. Brooks was chosen to succeed him. He began his labors in November, and is the present pastor.

FRIENDS MEETING HOUSE.

(Orthodox.) Is situated on the corner of Delaware and St. Clair street, and was erected in 1856. It is a two story brick, 48 feet long, and 40 feet wide, capable of seating 400 persons. Meetings are held twice a week, on the first and fourth days of each week, at half-past 10 o'clock, A. M.

GERMAN LUTHERAN. (ST. PAUL'S)

German Lutheran, situated on Alabama, south of Washington street. The corner stone of this church was laid on the 19th of July, 1844, by Rev. Mr. Kunz, and was dedicated by him on the 11th of May, 1845. The building is of brick, 35 by 50 feet, with a frame tower. It is capable of accommodating 340 persons. Its present pastor is the Rev. Charles Fricke.

The congregation of St. Paul's are having a new church erected, on the corner of East and Georgia streets. This church will be 13 by 108 and is intended to accomodate 1200 persons. The corner-stone is laid, and the building will be completed about the first of September.

GERMAN REFORM CHURCH.

Alabama street between Washington and Market. This church was erected in 1853. It was dedicated by the Rev. John Long. It is a brick building, 35 by 50 feet, contains about 50 pews, and will accommodate 200 persons. The present pastor is the Rev. G. J. Stearn. A school of 60 children is attached to the church, of which Mr. Stearn is the teacher.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL.

(Formerly German Congregational.) This congregation erected a church edifice in 1853, on New Jersey, between Market and Ohio streets. It will accommodate from 300 to 400 persons. The first pastor was the Rev. Mr. Ruley. The present incumbent is the Rev. Michael Krueger. Residence rear of church.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL, UNITED LUTHERAN AND REFORMED CHURCH.

This church edifice was erected and dedicated in 1845, and is situated on Ohio, between Meridian and Illinois streets. The first pastor was the Rev. Mr. Kunz; the present incumbent is the Rev. Hermann Quinius. Residence, basement of church.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH. (CATHOLIC.)

Was first founded in 1857, by the Rev. Leonhardt Brandt, uow pastorof St. Mary's Church, in Madison. In the month of August, the same year, the corner stone was laid, by the Right Rev. Maurice de St. Palais. The church was finished in the spring of 1858, by the Rev. S. Siegrist, pastor of the church. It was opened for divine service on the 15th of August, 1858, and was dedicated by Rev. Fg. Rudolph, pastor of Oldenburgh, Ind., on the 11th Sept., 1859.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH. (CATHOLIC.)

Georgia, between Illinois and Tennessee. Pastor, Rev. Aug. Bessonies. Hours of service every Sabbath, 8 o'clock, A. M., $10\frac{1}{2}$, A. M., 3 P. M. Parsonage adjoining the church. On the corner of Georgia and Tennessee streets, next the church, is the Female School conducted by the Sisters of Providence. Seven Sisters are employed. Sister Mary Ambrose, Superioress.

NEWSPAPERS AND PERIODICALS.

THE INDIANA STATE JOURNAL.

The Indiana State Journal was established in January, 1822. The paper is now in the fortieth year of its existence, and is, we believe, the oldest newspaper in Indiana. The daily Indiana Journal, changed in name in 1854 to the Daily Indianapolis Journal, was permanently established in 1851. Previous to this, daily, tri-weekly and semi-weekly editions of the paper were published for indefinite periods-mostly during the sessions of the Legislature. Our limited space will not permit us to trace the Journal through the changes it has experienced with its different conductors. It has had, however, fewer changes in owners than almost any paper of its age in the country—the publications being comparatively few that can show so small a number of names as the Journal exhibits in the list of its past and present proprietors. This fact is evidence of the stable character the paper has always sustained. The present proprietors of the Journal purchased the establishment in 1854. For six years they published the paper on South Pennsylvania street, opposite the Sinking Fund building, but in October, 1860, removed into their splendid new building, erected by them with a special reference to the wants of their business, on the south-east corner of Meridian and Circle streets. This building is the most complete of its kind in the State-planned and erected with a special. reference to the requirements of the printing business, in all its branches. Few publishing houses in the West occupy as fine or convenient buildings as that owned by the Indianapolis Journal Company. During the past year the circulation of both the Daily and Weekly Journal has greatly increased. In the city of Indianapolis alone the number of its daily issues has been augmented over thirty-three per cent. In the Daily Journal is published the official list of uncalled for letters, which is evidence of its claim to a larger circulation than that of any one of its city cotemporaries. The circulation of the Daily and Weekly, outside of the city, has increased in a corresponding ratio with that of its growth at home.

INDIANA STATE SENTINEL.

The Sentinel was first published in June, 1840, by G. A. & J. P. Chapman, who continued its publication until purchased by Austin H. Brown, in 1849. Mr. Brown established the "Indiana Daily State Sentinel" in 1851. In 1855 the establishment was purchased by Walker & Cottom, and until August, 1856, passed through various hands, when it was bought by the present energetic and enterprising proprietors, Messrs. Bingham & Doughty, who have made extensive additions to the office in the way of type, new presses, and the largest book bindery and blank book manufactory in the State. In April, 1857, shortly after the purchase by them, the office was nearly destroyed by the explosion of the boiler, producing a loss of about $12,000. Although the building in which the press room and the job and news rooms were situated, was left a mass of ruins, the publication of the paper was only suspended for a few days, and in a few weeks the business of the firm in all its departments was resumed with entire new material.

This firm have seven steam power presses propelled by an engine of eight horse power, and they employ in the various departments of their establishment about 60 hands. Their job room is very complete, and their facilities for doing job and book work are nnequalled in the West. The Daily and Weekly have as large a circulation as any newspaper in the West, and enjoys a liberal advertising patronage. Daily $6, and weekly $1 a year. Sentiments Democratic. Office State Sentinel building, (formerly old Capital House,) on the north side of Washington street, between Meridian and Pennsylvania streets.

THE INDIANA STATE GUARD.

This paper was first established as "The Locomotive," and the first number issued on August 16th, 1845, by Ohr, Culley & Co. On the first day of January, 1848, the paper passed into the hands of Douglass & Elder, who continued its publication until March 30, 1850. From this date (over ten years,) until the present time, it has been published by Elder & Harkness, who, on the 10th day of November, 1860, changed its name to that of the "Indiana State Guard." It is issued as a large weekly, and enjoys a liberal patronage. In connection with the paper, the proprietors have an extensive book and job printing establishment, where they keep three steam power presses running. In sentiments the Indiana State Guard is "National Democratic."

THE INDIANA AMERICAN.

The Indiana American was established in Brookville, Ind., Jan. 1832, by C. F. Clarkson. In 1853 he sold it to T. A. Goodwin, the present proprietor, who continued to publish it at Brookville until April, 1857, when it was moved to Indianapolis. Being sui generis in its character, it at once took rank among the most extensively circulated papers in the State. It is largely devoted to agriculture and family reading. It gives a synopsis of current news, and is Republican in politics. It is now published twice a week, at $1 50, to mail subscribers, and delivered in the city at $2 00 per year. It is an excellent advertising medium.

THE HERALD AND ERA.

This journal is the organ of the Universalist denomination in Indiana and Missouri, and also circulates largely in the adjacent States. It was first published semi-monthly, at Madison, Ind., by Revs. B. F. Foster and Thomas Abbott, in 1850. Mr. Abbott's connection with the paper ceased, and Rev. Dr. I. D. Williamson became one of its editors. Rev. T. C. Eaton became one of its proprietors shortly afterwards, and it was issued weekly. In 1853 the office was moved to Indianapolis, where Mr. Foster disposed of his interest, and M. G. Lee, one of the present editors, took his place. In 1855 the Golden Era, a weekly paper, started in St. Louis by Rev. E. Manford, and afterwards purchased by Mr. Abbott, was united to the Herald and the present name adopted. Offices are kept in both cities. Since then Mr. Eaton and Mr. Abbott have retired from the paper, and it is continued under the editorial control of Messrs. Lee and Williamson.

INDIANA FARMER-SEMI-MONTHLY.

The Indiana Farmer was established about twenty years ago, at Indianapolis, by Mr. J. S. Willetts, Esq. Since that time it has changed hands three or four times, and its publication has as often been discontinued, for want of adequate support. This has generally resulted from the common habit of Western people of patronizing Eastern instead of home papers.

In 1852 it fell into the hands of D. P. Holloway, Esq., of Richmond, who continued its publication in that city until the beginning of 1858, when it was purchased by Dr. J. N. Ray, who removed its publication to Indianapolis, where it has met with more general favor, and has attained a subscription patronage which makes its publication a source of profit, instead of loss, as heretofore.

The Indiana Farmer, is devoted, exclusively, to the interests of productive industry, and is a valuable aid to the Agricultural Societies of the State, which number nearly one hundred. Dr. Ray, its publisher, has adopted the plan of providing a special editor for each department, which, whilst it increases the expenses of publication, adds greatly to the value of the paper, and commends it to the hearty support of all—for citizens, as well as farmers, derive great advantage from the perusal of agricultural papers.

MISS DILL'S GAZETTE.

The Gazette, a first class literary paper, was established by Miss Lizzie St. Clair Dill, March 31st, 1860. Since that time it has become the most popular family newspaper published in Indiana. It gives all the current news, and its literary department is filled with the choicest selections and contributions. The Gazette is a necessary fireside companion, and should be taken by every family. Terms, $1 00 per annum, in advance.

WEEKLY HUMORIST.

The Railroad City Advertiser, a monthly issue, published by Landon & Hastings, and distributed gratuitously, was established in June, 1860, and continued as a monthly up to January, 1861, at which time the name was changed to that of the Weekly Humorist, now issued on Saturdays, and published at 50 cents per annum. This paper contains eight pages of closely printed matter, giving each week a thorough review of the markets, local news, agricultural and farming interests, humorous sketches, witticisms, &c. No effort will be spared to make it a welcome visitor to every family in the city or country. Publication office, 8 East Washington street.

THE INDIANA SCHOOL JOURNAL.

This Educational Monthly, published under the patronage of the State Teacher's Association, entered upon its sixth year with the January No., 1861. O. Phelps, Editor and Proprietor. A board of Associate Editors, and a Mathematical Editor, are appointed by the Association.

It has been enlarged, and the style of type changed so that it contains nearly double its original amount of reading matter.

The School Journal is enlivened by a letter in each No. from a correspondent in Europe.

The School Journal is a good advertising medium, as its circulation is not confined to any part of the State. Its subscription list has grown rapidly during the year 1860. The Editor will spend considerable time visiting different parts of the State during the year 1861. Subscribers wanting places as Teachers, or Trustees wanting competent Teachers, can use the Journal for making their wants known free of charge.

It will be sent to subscribers for One Dellar a year in advance.

THE FREE PRESS.

The Free Press was started by a company, on September the 6th, 1853, as an independent Democratic paper, in opposition to the so called National Democracy, and has advocated Republican principles ever since the Republican party existed, (1854.) Richard Henninger became the proprietor of the paper in 1854. Since the first of January, 1861, the Free Press has been issued daily, and is now the largest and widest circulated German newspaper in the State of Indiana.

THE INDIANA VOLKSBLATT.

The Voltsblatt, Julius Boetticher, publisher and proprietor, was established at Indianapolis in September, 1848. Politics, always Democratic, and has a circulation of 2000 subscribers. It was the first German paper published in the State of Indiana.

THE FREEMASON.

This is a monthly magazine, conducted by R.C. F. Rayhouser, and an able staff of contributors, printed at the office of the Indianapolis Journal Company. It is devoted to the diffusion of Masonic light and literature, for the improvement of the Craft, and the advancement of the order. It has now been published about a year and a half, and is in its third volume. commencement it has met (and deservedly) with unexampled success. A magazine of this character had become a necessity to the Craft of Indiana. Although many worthy and excellent magazines and other Masonic periodicals have been and are still published in the West, the Craft in Indiana were desirous of having a publication of a home character. This desideratum is obtained in the Freemason. Its articles are sound, conservative, entertaining and instructive, and its pages are laden with the gems of Masonic literature and kindred sciences-such matter as improves with time, and affords healthy food for the minds of the Craftsmen as well as others. Terms, two dollars a year.

WESTERN OLIVE BRANCH.

This paper is issued monthly, and edited by Mrs. Carrie D. Filkins Bush. It is devoted to Temperance and social improvement, and contains eight pages of original and selected matter in each number, that is interesting and entertaining. Price fifty cents a year; issued the first of each month.

THE WITNESS.

The first number of this paper was issued on the 3d December, 1856, by its present proprietor, M. G. Clarke. Its object is to furnish a suitable religious family newspaper for the Baptist denomination of Indiana. The present circulation is the largest of any paper in the State, being 4000 copies weekly.

CHRISTIAN RECORD.

The Christian Record is a religious monthly magazine, devoted to the cause of primitive Christianity. The first No. of this work was issued July 1843, in Bloomington, Ind., under the editorial supervision of Eld. James M. Mathes, who was sole proprietor of the work. In 1847 Eld. Elijah Goodwin became a full partner and co-editor with Eld. Mathes. This relation continued only two years, when Eld. Goodwin accepted a call from the Christian Church in Madison, Ind., to labor for that congregation in the ministry of the word.

The Record remained in the hands of Eld. Mathes, and was conducted by him in Bloomington until the summer of 1851, when it was moved to this city by him, and continued under his editorship until the spring or summer of 1855, when Eld. Mathes removed to Lawrence county, Ind., and published the Record for a time in Bedford, the county seat of Lawrence county. But, lacking many of the facilities for such a work which the city affords, he moved back to Indianapolis at the commencement of the year 1857.

In May, 1859, Mr. Mathes, finding it inconvenient to supervise the work in the city while he resided in Lawrence county, proposed to sell out to Eld. Elijah Goodwin, his former partner. Terms were agreed upon, and Eld. Goodwin became the sole proprietor and editor of the work. It is now in its 19th volume, and may be regarded as one of the permanent periodicals of Indianapolis, as its present editor is a permanent citizen.

ITS CHARACTER.—The Christian Record is wholly devoted to the cause of Christianity. It stands opposed to all human creeds as tests of Christian character or church fellowship. It teaches that Christianity is a reasonable thing; that it is addressed to man as a reasonable being, capable of understanding its facts and obeying its commandments; that the promises of the gospel are made to the obedient believer, and that all who will, may and can comply with the gospel and be saved.

Terms, $1 per vol. of 12 monthly numbers, invariably in advance. Address, Elijah Goodwin. Indianapolis, Ind.

S. C. FRINK,

WITH TEETH.

DENISI

OFFICE, No. 4 YOHN'S BLOCK, Corner of Washington and Meridian Streets,

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

Would return his most sincere thanks to his friends and the public for their patronage of the past, hoping by a faithful performance of all work entrusted to him as a Surgeon or Mechanical Dentist, still to merit a continuance of the same.

He will be happy to meet, not only his old friends, but new ones—having added much to his facilities for the convenience and comfort of his numerous patrons, and also for the quick dispatch of all kinds of Dental work. From one tooth to a whole set inserted in a few hours. Every operation for the preservation and beauty of the human teeth will be performed in the most careful and thorough manner.

CHLOROFORM GIVEN WHEN REQUIRED.

OFFICE HOURS FROM 8 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Also, his celebrated

ORIENTAL TOOTH POWDER,

For cleansing and beautifying the teeth, always on hand.

Prices to correspond with the times, and all work warranted.

LIFE INSURANCE.

NEW ENGLAND LIFE INSURANCE CO.,

OF BOSTON, MASS. B. F. STEVENS, Sec'y. WILLARD PHILLIPS, Prest.

Nearly $2,000,000

Well invested to meet Losses, after having paid a MILLION to the Widows, Orphans and Creditors of the Insured, and upwards of a MILLION in Dividends to holders of Policies. A uniformly prosperous career of 17 years has created a Surplus Fund of $700,000, over and above all Liabilities. Last Dividend 39 per cent., amounting to $336,000, all of which has been paid in Cash.

The success of this Company is owing to economy in conducting its business, care in its risks, and prudent investments. The great and striking feature of the Mutual principle is, that it secures to the insured a return of all OVER and ABOVE the actual cost; so that the party may be said to insure himself at the very lowest possible rate. This is done every five years, when the business relations of the Company are, as it were for the time being, closed, the surplus fund divided pro rata to all the insured.

Documents for free distribution, explaining Life Insurance, to be had of the Agent's,

MUNSO

COPPER TUBULAR

LICHTNING ROD,

SPIRAL FLANGES,

Continues to receive the highest marks of commendation which science can give.

It has received First Premiums at the following places:

NEW YORK STATE FAIR, PENNSYLVANIA STATE FAIR. ILLINOIS STATE FAIR, INDIANA STATE FAIR, MARYLAND INSTITUTE,

MECHANICS TITUTE, OF CINCINNATI,

OHIO; STATE FAIR, CONNECTICUT STATE FAIR.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE,

FRANKLIN INSTITUTE. OF PHILADELPHIA, PA.,

NATIONAL HELD AT LOUISVILLE, KY.,

AND AT A HOST OF

COUNTY AND DISTRICT FAIRS, Held in different Sections of the Country.

It never has been beaten in any contest, and never will be, where the judges are scientific and practical men. It has been recommended by hundreds of Professors in Colleges, and other scientific men, as the best Rod ever invented, and possessing all the elements necessary to protect buildings from Lightning.

Over Two Hundred Newspapers and other journals have spoken of it in terms of highest praise, and it has been liberally patronized by the most intelligent people whereever introduced.

Sold Wholesale and Retail by the Subscribers. State Rights for sale.

THE OPINION OF DR. BOYNTON.

As a sample of the numerous testimonials in our possession, we append the opinion of Dr. Boynton, the celebrated lecturer on Geology, Electricity, &c.

Indianapolis, January 2, 1860. Having examined Munson's Copper Tubular Lightning Rod with Spiral Flanges, I am free to say that it is the best Rod, by far, that I ever saw. Its chief points of superiority are, that it is Copper, which is one of the best conductors of electricity; it is Tubular, and thus a greater surface is obtained at a smaller cost than if solid; its Spiral Flanges stiffen the rod, and their rough edges dissipate the electricity, and therein is much better than if the surface was smooth; its connection is so complete that it is in effect a continuous rod. I am fully persuaded that when it is properly erected, it is a complete protection against the disasters produced by lightning.

INDIANA SCHOOL JOURNAL

FOR 1861.

This Educational Monthly, published under the patronage of the State Teachers' Association, will enter upon its sixth year with the January No., 1861. A board of Associate Editors, and a Mathematical Editor, are appointed by the Association.

It has been enlarged, and the style of type changed so that it contains nearly double its original amount of reading matter.

The School Journal is enlivened by a letter in each No. from a correspondent in Europe.

The School Journal is a good advertising medium, as its circulation is not confined to any part of the State. Our subscription list has grown rapidly during the year 1860. The Editor will spend considerable time visiting different parts of the State during the year 1861. Subscribers wanting places as teachers, or trustees wanting competent teachers, can use the Journal for making their wants known free of charge.

It will be sent to subscribers for One Dollar a year in advance. The subscription price can be sent by mail at our risk.

O. PHELPS, Editor and Proprietor.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

General Agents for a variety of Labor-Saving Machines, among which you will find

LADD, WEBSTER & CO.'S

IMPROVED TIGHT-STITCH

SEWING MACHINE

Received first premium at Indiana State Fair for 1860, over the Wheeler & Wilson, Grover & Baker, Sloat & Co., and various others, as the best family Sewing Machine.

VOGLE'S

BUTTON-HOLE SEWING MACHINE,

Works a perfect Button-Hole, and does every variety of plain Sewing, besides beautiful embroidery stitches.

FRENCH'S

Conical Washing Machine,

The most simply constructed and durable Washing Machine in the world. Will wash clean six shirts in six minutes, and other clothes in proportion. Clothes need no rubbing or boiling. Every machine warranted.

REFRIGERATOR AND WATER COOLER,

Combined.

Universally acknowledged by the most scientific and practical men to be the best thing of the kind before the public. Has received premiums at the National Fair at Cincinnati. 1860; St. Louis Fair, 1860; Indiaua State Fair, 1860; and at every other Fair wherever exhibited, over all competition.

OLD JAVA COFFEE POT,

Very simple, saves one-third of the coffee and all the aroma,

SOMETHING NEW.

KERSHOW & COLVIN'S PATENT COW MILKER,

Patented May 22 & 29, 1860.

A Practical, Useful,

Machine for Milking

IS SURELY INVENTED.

Retail Price, $10.00

Just the thing for dairymen. It requires no adjusting in changing from one cow to another. It milks a cow quickly, easily, and a cow likes to be milked by it. The Machine is simple, not likely to get out of order, and weighs only $6\frac{1}{2}$ pounds, pail and all.

Three minutes to milk any cow. It has milked 12 quarts of milk in 13 minutes. Cows stand better with the Machine than by hand.

PARK & DENNIS, Agents for Indiana,

Mechanical Museum, No. 82 Metropolitan Hall, INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

WOODS' MOWER,

Improved for 1861.

The best Mowing Machine in the World, Price $80.

Hubbard's Combined Mower and Reaper,

Light and strong, with center draft—a perfect machine. Has been thoroughly tried, and has never failed to give perfect satisfaction, either in mowing or reaping.

We have a large Room, and are prepared to do a General Commission Business in all kinds of labor-saving Machines, and as fast as new and valuable Machines are introduced, we are prepared to supply our customers with the same. It is our intention to keep no second-rate articles, and our customers can find the best by calling on us for any thing in our line.

MAY'S PATENT JAIL,

PATENTED OCTOBER 4, 1859.

SAW PROOF GRATINGS FOR PRISONS

PATENTED MAY 29, 1860.

In my arrangement the Jailor need never come in contact with the prisoner. There is always a grating of iron between the keeper and those confined, who are under his control without the risk of direct communication, the danger of which is known to all who have the charge of prisoners.

the charge of prisoners.

Jails already built can easily have my Patent Improvement added at a small expense, and it is equally adapted to stone or iron prisons.

A circular, with full particulars, will be sent on application to

SEE ENGRAVING, OPPOSITE PAGE.

REDSTONE BROTHERS' ECLIPSE

MORTICING MACHINE.

This machine is in every particular perfectly adjustable to any size mortice, will cut and clean the mortice by a single operation, self-feeding to any depth, length, or width required for ordinary purposes.

The time required to cut and clean mortices by hand is from three to ten seconds, a long mortice being cut in the same time as a short one.

When the machine is adjusted, the operation is simply turning by either crank or pulley. Will cut a great variety of compound mortices, giving any desired curve or angle to the mortice.

The principle of operating this machine is entirely new. All the motion of the tools are effected by direct action from the power wheel without the use of springs or gearing, and is a complete machine for any kind of morticing.

By a simple adjustment, the machine will make any required mortice for letting castings into bed posts to receive the rails, also forming a deep mortice in the center at the same time, to receive the pins in the ends of the rails.
